

2020 readiness toolkit

Learning Agility©

Online program

The program helps participants gain awareness of the concept of learning agility and its relevance in an ever-changing environment. Moreover, the course enables a better understanding of several key aspects such as the importance of agile learning and the impact of agile learning in professional development.

Objectives

- Gain awareness of the concept of learning agility
- Respond faster and more efficiently to a challenging professional context
- Gain awareness of individual barriers against agile learning and find ways to overcome them

The solution proposed – Learning Agility©

A 6-hour online workshop designed both to help participants understand the importance of learning agility and to provide the right context for transferring the principles of agile learning into participants' reality through exercises, discussions, and an individual action plan.
